

Md Al Amin - Curriculum Vitae

PhD Student, Agricultural and Applied Economics, University of Georgia.

Research interests: Public Health Economics, Environmental Economics, Development Economics, Energy Economics.

Education: PhD, Agricultural and Applied Economics, University of Georgia; MA, Applied Economics, Ohio University; BSS, Economics, University of Barishal.

Employment: Graduate Research Assistant, University of Georgia. Editorial Associate.

Publications: Multiple peer-reviewed publications. Replace this placeholder with full verified citations before public launch.

Presentations: Agricultural and Applied Economics Association Annual Meeting and university research seminars.

Awards and grants: Graduate travel grant awards and competitive professional development support.

Teaching: Teaching assistant experience in economics and applied economics courses.

Service: Journal reviewer and editorial associate service.